Professional Background

Ms. Song Hailan is a partner and member of the management committee at Hylands (Qingdao) Law Firm, and also serves as the director of the Marriage, Family and Wealth Succession Committee. She is recognized as one of the first batch of "Four Good" Party members in Shandong's legal profession. Ms. Song graduated from China University of Political Science and Law with a bachelor's degree in law and is currently a part-time master's candidate in civil and commercial law at Renmin University of China. With over 16 years of combined experience as in-house counsel and private practitioner, she has developed a multidimensional and mutually reinforcing expertise across three core areas: major and complex commercial dispute resolution, marriage, family and wealth succession, and full-cycle corporate legal services.

In dispute resolution, Ms. Song excels at handling high-stakes, multi-party cases involving intricate legal relationships. She constructs offensive and defensive strategies with rigorous logic and precise foresight, securing optimal outcomes for clients amid dynamic and adversarial contexts. In corporate practice, she brings deep insight into the underlying logic of business, integrating compliance management, equity structuring, and commercial objectives to help enterprises mitigate risks while unlocking growth potential. In marriage and family matters, she balances legal rationality with humanistic care, adeptly navigating emotional complexities and property disputes to restore fairness and order. Ms. Song believes that exceptional legal service stems from respect for facts and a profound understanding of both business and family dynamics. Guided by the principle of solving real problems and delivering tangible value, she consistently provides clients with professional, efficient, and forward-looking legal support.
