Professional Background

Ms. Sun has been practicing for more than 20 years and is a legal expert proficient in academic research and application in the securities field. Her career service area runs through the front, middle and back end of securities legal services, focusing on the middle and back end of the capital market in recent years: the middle end is deeply involved in securities compliance, M&A, reorganization, refinancing, bond issuance, determination of actual controllers, control contention, diligence of directors and supervisors, and validity of shareholders' meeting resolutions; the back end revolves around letter disclosure violations, regulatory penalties, misrepresentation, insider trading, market manipulation, etc.

Ms. Sun is proficient in how to extract the focal facts and their logical muscles from the massive documents such as prospectuses, audit reports, lawyers' work reports and announcement information. In the process of securities practice cases, she always insists on starting from the transaction background, exploring the true meaning of the parties, restoring the real face of the case, and protecting the legitimate interests of the parties.
